

HUMAN TRAFFICKING

• Judicial Officers are advised to:

- o Protect victims of human trafficking by not regarding them as criminals but as individuals that are in need of assistance and protection;
- o Determine whether the facts of a prostitution case indicate forced or wilful prostitution;
- o Ensure that translators are available at the committal hearing and trial;
- o Give priority to hearing human trafficking cases;
- o Conduct human trafficking cases in-camera;
- o Provide a friendly courtroom environment for the survivors of human trafficking.
